1 Inside the environmental justice movement's big win

EMMA DUMAIN, E&E NEWS

Activists helped stop Senate Energy and Natural Resources Chair Joe Manchin's permitting reform bill, and they vow to do so again. They're also lobbying for action on transformative environmental justice legislation.

A message from Climate Reality Project:

World Bank President David Malpass has a history of climate denial and has overseen billions pumped into fossil fuel projects that are poisoning our air and exacerbating the climate crisis. It's time for new leadership at the World Bank, who will use the bank's financial might to accelerate a just transition to clean energy across the planet. Tell President Biden to replace Malpass with a leader committed to clean energy and climate action. Take action.
